Poster sessions in general

- A poster session is a presentation where materials such as maps, photographs, graphs, charts, and/or tables are posted on a display board along with brief textual summaries of the presenter's work.
- Each poster display should include a sign with title(s) and name(s) of the presenter(s) in large, easy-to-read letters.
- A well-constructed poster is self-explanatory, and a successful poster presentation achieves both coverage and clarity. Extensive, imaginative use of captioned illustrations, photos, graphs, or other types of visually appealing material is an extremely effective means of communication in a poster presentation. Remember to label each section of your presentation clearly.
- People attending poster sessions are free to move about from poster to poster and there is not enough time for people to read excessive text. Posters should be limited to 8-10 pages of double-spaced, 16-20 point text. This allows lettering to be read from several feet away.
