

“Capital in the 21st Century”

The Bank of England
Museum Entrance, Bartholomew Lane, London, EC2R 8AH

Friday 19 December 2014

Programme

- Chair:* Andy Haldane (Bank of England)
- 12:00-12:30 Lunch and Registration
- 12.30-13.00 Where Has Modern Equality Come From? Lucky vs. Smart Paths in Economic History
Peter Lindert (University of California at Davis)
- 13.00-13.15 Response from Thomas Piketty (Paris School of Economics and CEPR)
- 13.15-13.25 Q&A
- 13.25-14.20 Growth
Jaume Ventura (CREI and Universitat Pompeu Fabra, Barcelona, and CEPR)
- 13.55-14.10 Response from Thomas Piketty (Paris School of Economics and CEPR)
- 14.10-14.20 Q&A
- 14.20-14.35 Coffee Break
- 14.35-15.30 Inequality in Earnings and Human Capital: When does it Start? Intergenerational transmission of inequality
Orazio Attanasio (University College London and CEPR)
- 15.05-15.20 Response from Thomas Piketty (Paris School of Economics and CEPR)
- 15.20-15.30 Q&A
- 15.30-16.25 Political Economy Implications
Tim Besley (London School of Economics and Political Science and CEPR)
- 16.00-16.15 Response from Thomas Piketty (Paris School of Economics and CEPR)
- 16.15-16.25 Q&A